

Bram Stoker - The Lady of the Shroud: Ah, It Is the Fault of Our Science That It Wants to Explain All; And If It Explain Not, Then It Says There Is Nothing

By Bram Stoker

Bram Stoker Publishing, United States, 2014. Paperback.
Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book ***** Print on Demand *****.Born in November 1847 in Dublin, Ireland, Abraham Stoker was the third of seven children. Bed ridden with health issues until aged 7 he made a complete recovery on being sent to school. He was an excellent student excelling in maths and with a keen interest in Theatre. He began his career as a theatre critic and after a favourable review was invited to meet the most important actor of the day, Henry Irving. They became great friends. After marriage to Florence Balcombe in 1878 they moved to London where he worked for Irving at his Lyceum theatre. It was here he started to write and then to travel extensively with Irving as he toured. Many of his novels are set from the places he visited though he never did go to Eastern Europe. He wrote many novels during his career but of course Dracula rises above all else. In those last few moments drifting from wake to sleep we sometimes delve into thoughts of a very unpleasant kind. The hint of a shadow moving across the room can give rise...
